"Ah," said he, "we've got to go up there." The Populist is bound to win, "pears like a 'rog' ar' boom. Is sweepin' over all the land. Old parties read them.

As they say, "he's a livin' man. We're campin' on their trail."

With Mary "Elizabeth to lead there ain't no word like "fail."

Why, down in New York City, sir, and in St. Louis, Mo., I stopped off there to see my daughter Ann as I cum through."

They're goin' wild about her; why, I'm ready to aww."

In both of them air cities they jest fairly worship her.

It show'd as plain as plain can be that these hard times'll cease.

To see on nearly every house a sign which says

IT'S SO IF IT'S IN THE LEDGER.

CHENOWETH'S Sarsaparilla is the best. THOMAS GOULFOYLE has been granted liquor license.

C. T. ANDERSON paid Charles Biggers $7,000 for his interest in the firm of W. & Biggers, liverymen.

CLAIMS allowed at the recent session of the Mason Fiscal Court amounted to $4,988 35—a very small sum for a county like ours.

ONE of the damage suits against the Phoenix Bridge Company for $20,000 has been compromised out of court at Louisville for $3,000.

CAROLINE M. COLBURN, widow of the late Andrew J. Colburn, has been granted a pension of $12 a month, and $2 per month for her child, dating from September 25th, 1893.

AT Portersmouth in May last Richard Zeek, in the employ of Newman & Spanner, was accidentally killed by a "Spanish windlass" which he was operating for the firm. His estate now sues the concern for $10,000 damages for his death.

MISS MINNIE McDougle and Miss Minnie Eastham, both of this city, have their handsome faces in the last number of The Illustrated Kentuckian. There also appears a splendid likeness of the Rev. Dr. E. Pearce of Danville, who was born in this county and studied law in this city with the late Hon. R. H. Stanton.

JACK BRAND, who went his eye on the Pollard-Breckinridge case by volunteering a good many stories about Miss Pollard that other witnesses knocked into a cocked hat, is about to lose his position as janitor of a schoolhouse in Lexington. He is a brother-in-law of Mayor Duncan, who appointed him to the place, and who will now be requested to ask him to step down and out.

THE NEWS says it can give no encouragement to the public for the coming week's business at Ashland. The plants in operation the past week have sufficient work ahead of them to keep them busy about the same scale, but of those larger idle industries that have the greater share of the public attention and speculation we can say nothing. Neither of these has made any announcement of an intended resumption, and it is not expected by the employees that anything will be forthcoming soon.

LAST NIGHT'S SERVICES.

A Tremendous Outpouring at Four of the City Churches.

ALTHOUGH there were services last evening at only four of the churches—the Episcopal, Christian, First Presbyterian and First Baptist,—there were probably more people in attendance than on any previous evening in the history of the city.

SERVICES were conducted at the Church of the Nativity by Bishop Dudley, and there were several additions and confirmations.

At the Christian Church Rev. Cade was greeted by an immense congregation, the aisles and all available room being filled with chairs.

REV. T. W. WATTS preached at the First Presbyterian Church to ladies only, and the magnificent audience-room was filled to its utmost capacity. This was an addition to the usual meeting.

AT the First Baptist Church Evangelist Fife spoke to men only, and the house was packed to the doors. It is safe to say that scores of men were present who have not before in years known what the interior of a church looked like, and the closest attention was given throughout.

Prayers were asked for many—from the Mayor to the last policeman; for the local judges; for the lawyers, the doctors, the liquor dealers, the merchants and the mechanics; for the traveling men and the laborers—for all in fact save the poor devils who wrestle with the devil.

THE JACK'S NARROW ESCAPE.

KENTUCKY'S POET LAUREATE SHAKEN UP IN A LIVELY RUNAWAY.

Major Henry T. STANTON, poet laureate of this state, had a very narrow escape with his life a few days ago.

He was driving with his son-in-law, C. W. DORSIE.

The horse became frightened near Ducker's Station, about four miles East of Frankfort, and dashed frantically away, throwing both the Major and Mr. Dorsie violently to the ground.

The bloodied animal, however, carried the occupants at a rapid rate for some distance before they were ejected, and beyond the bad scare both received, neither was permanently injured.

MARRIED IN CINCINNATI.

BEN. U. STEELE and Miss LEONE B. PORTER of Calcutta.

Benjamin U. Steele, better known as Ben, is Clerk of the Circuit Court at Calcutta, and for some time has been having undivided attention to Miss Leone B. Porter, a Public School teacher of the same town.

Friday morning Mr. Steele was going to Cincinnati on a short business trip, and as Miss Porter wished to do some shopping in the same city, and was quite fond of Ben's society, they made up their minds to go together, and while away to "Ma and Pa" would be joined in the full rounds of matrimony.

The two arrived in Cincinnati Saturday evening.

There are strong indications that the People of Kansas are regaining their senses. At the recent election the Republicans knocked the everlasting stonin' outen the Populists.

At the recent Ohio election the city of Hamilton, a strong Democratic city with a majority of from 1,500 to 2,000, walked into the arms of the Republican party. Hamilton is preminently a manufacturing city. They have been made to feel the weight of Democratic supremacy in National affairs, and took this method of making their protest against the passage of the Wilson Bill heard in the Senate chamber at Washington.

The signal defeat of the Democratic party in the local elections on Long Island has a double significance. The overthrow of the Democratic candidates was due partly to a revolt of reputable citizens against Ross rule. But the chief cause of the Republican victories was indignation and disgust with the program of industrial destruction at Washington, which has made every community a scene of poverty, idleness and misery. The same lesson was at work in these towns that has displayed itself throughout the North in recent local elections. Let Tariff tinkers and Democratic bosses take new warning!

Well, here is some more information for you, Brother MARSH. The corrected election returns from Rhode Island show that the Republican victory is even greater than at first supposed. Governor Brown is re-elected by a plurality of over 6,000, the entire Republican slate ticket is victorious by about the same plurality, and the Republicans have 102 out of 108 members of the Grand Committee. The Democratic strongholds of Newport, Pawtucket, Scituate, Cumberland and Tiverton returned handsome Republican pluralities.

The next U. S. Senator will be a Republican.

Just a few more "howls" this morning

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 5th.—The Union carpenters of this city went on a strike this morning. The Union is composed of twelve hundred men, and the leaders claim that nearly half this number who are at work have stopped work.

MANCHESTER, April 5th.—The lasters in Craft & Green's shoe factory are on strike in consequence of a reduction of ten cents per case.

STURGEON, April 5th.—One hundred and twenty-five of the 200 employees of the Saratoga Tube Co. are out on a strike. In October the company reduced the wages 10 per cent., and in February the entire force was again cut 10 per cent. Superintendent Telford posted a notice that the February reduction would be restored on Monday. The men demanded the October scale, and upon the company's refusal they went out.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 5th.—This evening, at a general meeting of the stone masons and bricklayers of this city, a general strike to begin tomorrow was ordered against a reduction of ten cents an hour in the rate of wages. Heretofore they have been receiving forty cents an hour. Four hundred men will go out.

MASSILLION, O., April 5th.—An appeal was sent out by the people of the village of North Lawrence today, in behalf of the 300 miners in that place who are victims of the lockout in the Massillon mining district. Families who for twenty years have lived in plenty are now destitute, and almost starving.

BICYCLE RIDING.

Some of Its Benefits to the Physical System.

An Anatomist Discourses Interestingly Upon This Most Pleasurable Form of Exercise—The Incorrect Position.

The use of the bicycle as a means of exercise ranks, in my opinion, as foremost among the various forms of exercise that may be taken. As writer in the International Journal of Surgery. It ranks equally with horseback riding, rowing, swimming and is superior to walking; besides this it is a means of rapid transportation and forces the rider into the open air. It is particularly good for those who are accustomed to the weaker forms of exercise. He who desires vigorous exercise can obtain it. No one can ride a bicycle and not have his thoughts taken out of himself, and at the same time have his attention pleasantly engaged.

After a careful study I believe the following to be its effect in health: Under moderate, sensible use the perspiration is not increased, but deepened; the heart beat slightly increased, and the pulse by three beats and the minute contraction of the muscles receives a larger proportion of oxygen and is more evenly distributed over the body, preventing congestions. The effete materials in the tissues are rapidly removed, and oxidation, which is essential to health, is more perfectly carried on. The blood vessels and the intestines there is a noticeable effect, viz.: increased digestive power with increased capacity for food. This in its turn enriches the blood. The increased circulation of blood above mentioned gives additional material out of which to manufacture new tissue. The heart's action is not so noticeable, though the writer is inclined to believe it is similar to that of the stomach, viz.: increased functional power.

Upon the muscular system it has a direct effect, increasing the size, their strength and power. Since, however, it trains the great spinal centers to perform complex movements and acts as a balance to over spinal action, gives increased coordination with lessened expenditure of nervous force. The acts of respiration, etc., it effect upon the brain is great, because it develops the motor area of the brain and in it permits of a combination of intricate muscular acts. Again, take a man who has exercised his intellectual faculties to the utmost; has, as a consequence, increased coordination in the function of the brain.

By means of his muscular improvements and by bringing into play the muscular and emotive centers of his brain he changes the force and direction of the cerebral blood current, releasing and resting the hard-worked intellectual centers. And, lastly, it gives that elasticity and calmness that solidity of gait, which bespeak the healthy individual, while his expression, animal spirits and rosy complexion are in very great contrast to the uncertain movements, sickly smile, pale, pasty, greasy-looking skin of the red and overworked man.

This is the third aspect which I wish to take an unquestioned and decided stand—that is, the incorrect position assumed by many riders. This position is the resultant of a compressed vanity, or lack of knowledge, and is most unfortunate and unfriendly comment upon this silent steed.

The correct position is that of a modified position of the soldier—a position of command, grace and perfect muscular control. The rider should hold his handle bars so adjusted that when he stands erect the palm of the hand rests upon the bar, thus distributing the tension upon the arm muscles. The arms should be comfortably extended, and the trunk as far as possible held erect without being stiff. The legs can then be extended with comfort, and without interference with the rearward motion of the center of gravity. If one will stand perfectly erect, the arms close to the body, and the forearm fixed at right angles, and the lower limbs separated, about eight inches at the heels, he will understand thoroughly what I mean by a modified position of the soldier.

QUEER FUNERAL CUSTOMS.

In Shropshire, England, they ring the Dead House Wives' Funeral.

In Shropshire, England, there is a custom of "ringing the dead home"—that is, chiming all the bells instead of ringing only one while a funeral is on its way to the church. When the procession nears the churchyard gate the sexton rings all the bells until he is told "The sexton's far off." At Athlone, a small town in Devonshire, it was the prevalent custom to ring a lively peal on the church bells when a funeral was elsewhere after a wedding.

That funerals should be used as a means for the encouragement of trade may seem somewhat strange in this hyperactive age; yet Mr. Howlett, in his article on "Burial Customs" in the Westminster Review, tells us that the funeral custom which originated in France, and was introduced into England, was adopted with such energy that it was required of every person who attended a funeral to contribute 100 francs.

—requiring at the funeral an affidavit to be delivered to the priest stating that the requirements of the law had been carried out; otherwise penalties were incurred. These acts were repeated by George III., although long before that time the law of England required compliance with the law had been enforced. During the operation of the acts for burying in woolen goods the law was sometimes evaded by covering the corpse with hay or straw, notification of which is sometimes met with in the parish registers.

MASSILLION, O., April 5th.—An appeal was sent out by the people of the village of North Lawrence today, in behalf of the 300 miners in that place who are victims of the lockout in the Massillon mining district. Families who for twenty years have lived in plenty are now destitute, and almost starving.

Terrible Disaster in a Fireworks Factory in Virginia.

A Fire Followed by Several Deafening and Deadly Explosions.

Twelve Burned and Blenched Bodies From the Ruins—Several Persons Badly Injured, Some of Whom Will Die—Funerals of the Victims.

PETERSBURG, Va., April 9.—Saturday afternoon an alarm of fire was turned on, and this was soon followed by a loud explosion, and in about fifteen minutes thereafter there was a second explosion. These were caused by gunpowder, for a distance of over a mile, and were caused by fire breaking out in the fireworks factory of C. N. Romaine & Bro., in Clarendon, a suburb of Petersburg.

The flames were quickly communicated to other buildings used for the manufacture of fireworks, and there were frequent explosions. At the time the fire occurred high wind prevailed and the firemen had to work at a great disadvantage. The total loss by the fire will be fully $100,000, greatly covered by the insurance companies.

The saddest feature of the whole occurrence was the loss of life which resulted from the explosions and fire. Twelve people were killed in the explosions and many injured.

The deadly explosion in Clarendon & Boxes, which has so farce of life has been the sole topic of conversation here Sunday. Special reference was made to the catastrophe in all of the churches.

The funerals of Messrs. C. N. Romaine, John B. Bland, James Romaine and a son of the deceased, and James Perkins and Edward Taylor, all victims of the explosion, took place Sunday, and were largely attended.

The funerals of Messrs. Romaine and Brand, members of the city council, were attended by nearly every man a body of the city. A funeral of Capt. Tool will take place Tuesday morning. He leaves a widow with twelve children. John Harris, another victim, died Sunday afternoon.

Sunday morning another dead body was found in the river, but he could not be identified. The poor fellow had been buried through the air and carried a distance of several hundred yards. A jaw bone with the teeth was found Sunday half a mile from the scene of the explosion. Several heart-shaped boxes of bones of human beings were found buried in the debris. These were placed in a box and buried. The head of James Perkins was found Sunday morning some distance from the scene of the explosion.

Had the explosion occurred an hour later a hundred or more persons would have been killed.

The condition of Chief Engineer is very critical.

Pursuant to the call of the mayor, a mass meeting of citizens will be held in the central hall of the Commercial Bank to take such measures of relief as the occasion requires. Over $1,500 was contributed. The city council will be asked to contribute, and it is expected to make the fund $5,000.

It is estimated that fully 30,000 people participated in the catastrophe Sunday. By the destruction of the fireworks and the tobacco factory, at least 300 people are thrown out of employment.

A Rich Gold Strike.

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., April 9.—The greatest gold strike of the year at Cripple Creek is reported to be the largest ever made in the state. The lowest assay shows $9 to the ton. A half ton assayed $400 to the ton. Several feet will run half that amount. Quartz streaks three to four inches wide will give as high as $1,000 to $1,500 per ton. Gold has been opened for two years, but attention has been called away from it and its richness has never been dreamed of. It has recently passed from the locator's hands to the Bartlett Gold Mining Co.

OUTGOING SENATORS.

The Terms of Thirty Expire Next March—Coming Fall Elections Are of the Utmost Importance For at Least Two Reasons.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—The politicians in the house and senate have already begun to lay their wires for reelection. The coming state elections throughout the country are of the greatest importance, as the governors and all the representatives now in congress. The terms of thirty senators expire on March 4 and an entirely new house of representatives will be voted for on November 4. As the legislature will not be able to be elected in many states the legislative contests will be the most important.

The following is a list of the senators whose terms expire March 4, 1866: John T. Morgan of Alabama, James M. of Arkansas, Edward D. Bassett of Colorado, Andrew J. Higgins of Louisiana, H. A. Colquitt (deceased) of Georgia, George L. Shoup of Idaho, Shubael M. Colton of Illinois, James F. Wilson of Iowa, John Martin of Kansas, William Lindsay of Kentucky, Joseph C. Gurney of Louisiana, John McPherson of New Jersey, M. W. Rhoads of Rhode Island, Matthew C. Butler of South Carolina, Richard F. Pettigrove of South Dakota, Isham W. Harris of Tennessee, John C. Taylor of Texas, Eppa Hunton of Virginia, J. N. Cannon of West Virginia, Joseph M. Carey of Wyoming.

In addition to these vacancies for the terms ending in 1869 are to be filled by the legislatures of Wyoming, Montana and Nevada, and by the election of the newly elected Congressman Gear to succeed Senator Wilson. Virginia has elected Col. Martin to fill the place of Eppa Hunton. Kentucky has chosen Senator Lindsay to succeed himself.

HILL'S ATTACK

Is Expected to Greatly Benefit the Bound Bill in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—It is regarded as extremely probable that a vigorous attempt will be made by the Republican senators to hamper the passage of the tariff bill by introducing legislation to delay its bills fair to be successful.

To what extent these efforts may go will depend upon the developments of the next few days. A great deal is expected from Senator Hill in his speech next Monday in the way of suggestion to aid the bill.

He will vigorously attack the income tax addenda of the bill, and will probably say little about the tariff. His opposition to the entire bill is well understood on both sides that it has been repeatedly, though covertly, recommended to him by the leaders of the opposition of Mr. Hill to the bill on account of the income tax provision it will be a comparatively easy matter to so complicate matters as to draw the senators from the great sugar states into the ranks of the opposition also.

Over 800 strikers gathered at Peoria Saturday.

The leaders of the meeting advised the men to stand firm but warned them against destruction of life and property. Large attended meetings were also held at Mt. Pleasant, Trotter and Uniontown. At each of these places there was not the slightest difficulty in wakening the men of the workingmen, and the operators have no fear of further violence. The operators believe the strike is settled. COLLAPSED.

Memphis, Tenn., the Scene of a Frightful Disaster.

Four Dead Bodies and Five Wounded Taken From the Ruins.

Seven Persons Are Still Missing—The Victims All Colored—An Old Brick Tenement Building Falls Down—The Scenes Attending the Rescue.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 9.—Four cheap coffins laid in a row in the morgue, and five bandaged forms repose on cots at the city hospital, represent the dead and injured taken from the debris of a tenement building which collapsed on the northeast corner of Desoto and Beale streets, at 7:15 o'clock Sunday morning.

There is no doubt that there are more bodies beneath the immense pile of brick, lime, sand and splintered timber that now covers the place where the building stood, but it is not known that no man may be made for removal of the bodies will avail to save life, for all that were not rescued on noon Sunday are beyond the reach of human aid.

The collapse took place at 7:15 o'clock Sunday morning. It was witnessed by several persons on the outside, and several of those who were on the inside strive to relate what little they know of this, one of the most appalling disasters that ever occurred in Memphis. There was a crackling and cracking, a sound of walls giving way, and a roar, that came with a crash. A great cloud of dust floated out upon the air, filling the street each way for a block. There was a hurrying forward of the police, firemen and citizens, and then work of rescue began.

At 10 o'clock the search was given up from the ruined building.

The building was erected three years ago. It was of brick, three and a half stories high, with slate roof. While it was all one building, it was divided by a thick wall into two parts. The building was never condemned as unsafe. It was considered as one of the stanchest of the older buildings in this city.

The scene attending the rescue were horrifying in the extreme. The bodies that were found with life extint were all badly crushed, and some of them were almost mangled.

The exact number of lives lost will not be known until the debris is all cleared away. There were about fifty persons in the tenement, all of whom were found dead. Twenty-two people were known to be living at the time of the collapse. Of these, six escaped without serious injury, four were taken out dead, five wounded, and the remainder are missing.

THE COST OF LAW.

A few small claims against the Keifer Milling Company.

At Covington Edward Renz, Master Commissioner, has made a report of recommendations of partial assignee claims for the settlement of the Keifer Milling Company affairs to the court. The Master's report is now under the court's consideration.

He recommends that James P. Tarvin and W. W. Cleary, as attorneys for assignees, be allowed $3,750.

That B. F. Graziani be allowed $1,800 for claiming in that capacity.

That John O'Meara, ex Sheriff, be allowed $1,000.

That Frank P. Holm, former Master Commissioner, be allowed $500.

Messrs. Tarvin and Cleary asked for $5,000 for their legal services, and Assignee Graziani requested that he be allowed a similar amount for his services.

Mr. Renz's report reduces the amount of the claims $4,700.

Not very much if you say it quick.

MAJOR WINCHESTER REES.

Death of a Well Known Mason County Man at Winchester.

For many years Mr. Rees was identified with the business of Mayville.

In 1856 he removed to Clark county and engaged in farming.

He died this to take charge of the National House, afterward the Ross House, and continuing in the hotel business until the beginning of the present year.

PERSONS who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an attack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. Such persons should always keep the remedy at hand, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. For sale by Theo. Power, Druggist.

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson of C. J. Kunkler & Co., Kensington, Minn. Fifty cent bottles for sale by Theo. Power, Druggist.
